COURSE TITLE: WOMEN'S WRITING

1. Remember: Identify major women writers across genres and periods, along with key themes such as gender, identity, power, and resistance in their works.
2. Understand: Explain how literary forms—novel, poetry, and prose—serve as vehicles for articulating women's experiences, agency, and socio-political critique.
3. Apply: Interpret selected texts using feminist and intersectional frameworks, attending to voice, narrative structure, and cultural context.
4. Analyze: Examine how women's writing engages with issues of race, class, sexuality, and nationhood through literary techniques and thematic depth.
5. Evaluate: Critically assess the aesthetic, ideological, and historical significance of women's contributions to literary traditions and cultural discourse.
6. Create: Develop original responses—analytical essays, creative reinterpretations, or reflective journals—that demonstrate nuanced understanding of women's literary voices and visions.
