

Research Methodology in History

---

1. Evaluate the significance of historical research in uncovering and understanding the past (Understanding)
2. Analyze the principal methods and techniques used in historical research (Analyzing)
3. Compare and contrast the interdisciplinary connections between history and science, history and humanities, and history and religion (Analyzing)
4. Critically assess the key developments and schools of thought in Indian Historiography (Evaluating)
5. Examine the evolution of Western Historiography from the 18th to the 20th centuries (Analyzing)
6. Assess the impact of Post-Modernist Approaches on historical research and interpretation (Evaluating)
7. Generate well-reasoned arguments and hypotheses based on historical research findings (Creating)
8. Apply ethical considerations in conducting historical research and presenting findings (Applying)

Select Language

Powered by  Google Translate

